

Edith B. Ford Memorial Library

Hours and Days of Operation

The Edith B. Ford Memorial Library is chartered to serve both the Towns of Ovid and Romulus with a combined population of less than 7,000 residents. NYCRR Title 8 of the New York State Education Standards for registration of public, free association, and Indian Libraries states that a library serving a population of 5,000-14,999 must be open to the public 35 hours per week.

The Edith B. Ford Memorial Library will be open, at minimum, 35 hours per week with a combination of morning, afternoon, evening and weekend hours to serve the entire population of our community.

The Edith B. Ford Memorial Library will close for major holidays determined by the Board of Trustees. Closed days will be posted in advance.

In the event of bad weather or building maintenance, the library will post their closing using social media and signage in the library.
